Bloodmobile Here July 29

A little boy is struck by a speeding car — he is critically injured. A young woman needs delicate open-heart surgery to save her life. A hemophiliac, or "bleeder," gets a small scratch — and may bleed to death.

What great need do all of these people have in common? They need blood — and without it they cannot live.

In Crawford County, this blood is provided for all of these people, for anyone whose illness or injury requires it, through the voluntary Red Cross Blood Program. Crawford County is one of 33 counties participating in the Red Cross Regional Blood Program that is operated through the Lansing Regional Center.

Because this county participates, all residents of the county are entitled to have their total blood needs met, whether they are hospitalized in our county or anywhere in the United States or Canada. When hospitalized away from home, the patient or a member of his family must notify the Red Cross. In Grayling, Mrs. Beryl Moore, 348-3402 is the local blood chairman.

When she receives a request for blood for a resident away from home, she notifies the Lansing Red Cross, who in turn take care of the replacement.

In Crawford County, no resident pays for blood. Patients pay only the hospital service fee for the administration of the blood. The Red Cross Chapter and its volunteer donors make this service possible.

"Who are these volunteer blood donors?" you may ask. The answer is "You — and people like you." Without volunteer donors, blood from a commercial source can cost from $25 to as much as $50 or $60 for each pint.

In addition to the fact that the blood for Crawford County residents is free of charge for the blood itself, even more important is the fact that the blood is ready and available when it is needed. It will continue to be ready and available only if donors get out and give blood when the bloodmobile visits each community.

Crawford County Chapter has issued an appeal to all residents to give blood at the bloodmobile visit scheduled on July 29, 1970, from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., at the American Legion Hall.

Make sure that you do your part to insure that Crawford County residents will have all the blood they need — whenever that need arises.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Bidvia spent Wednesday of last week in Traverse City on business.

4-County Group Seeks Mental Health Clinic

An all purpose community mental health clinic for Roscommon, Crawford, Missaukee and Wexford Counties is the goal of a recently formed committee of interested citizens.

The group which is represented by both lay and professional people seeks to have a clinic established and in operation by July 1, 1971. The clinic would be jointly administered by a local board of directors and the State Department of Mental Health.

Tentative plans call for a staff of three professionals who would be employed by the State of Michigan and would work out of Cadillac and Grayling if suitable space is made available. Services to residents of the four counties would be provided on a co-operative basis with the Child Guidance Clinic, of Traverse City, the Out-Patient Department of the Traverse City State Hospital, and other human service organizations.

Planning committee members include Dr. Paul Dosch, Fraser Dean, Mrs. Myrtle McPhail, R.N. of Grayling; Lynn Parker and Mrs. Alice Hamp, both of Prudenville; Mrs. Kathleen Webb, R.N., of Houghton Lake; Mrs. Jane Gruenberg of Falmouth; Mrs. Reba Reynolds, R.N., Miss Barbara Guest, both of Lake City; also Judge Walter Ranson, Robert Mattern, Mrs. Margaret Albright, R.N., Sgt. Don Linn, all of Cadillac.

Mr. Parker was elected chairman and Miss Guest recorder of the group. Persons or groups interested in learning more about the proposed program may contact any committee member or write to the Mental Health Clinic Committee, COOR Intermediate School District Building, Prudenville, Mich. 48651.

Busy Season for Marine Division

With the 1970 boating and swimming season at approximately the half-way point, the Marine Division of the Crawford County Sheriff's Department reports all activities have shown a substantial increase over the levels of 1969. In response to this increased marine activity, the Sheriff's Department has logged more hours of patrol time, issued more warnings, and written more citations than in any previous season.

In addition, the marine deputies have inspected nearly a thousand livery and rental boats throughout the county, making sure that all vessels meet the safety requirements set by the state. Of Michigan's 83 counties, Crawford is second only to Oakland County in the number of livery boats inspected.

Boat recoveries have also shown an increase over last year, with a total to date of 12 lost boats recovered by the Sheriff's Department.

Included in the duties of the Marine Division are campground inspections, first aid, and complaint investigation. Still under investigation at this writing is a case of malicious destruction of property at the Paddle Brave Canoe Livery.

The Sheriff's Department urges all boaters to comply with the safe-boating regulations of Michigan, and to cooperate with the marine safety officers. Copies of the Michigan Marine Safety Act of 1967 are available and can be obtained by stopping at the Sheriff's office in the county building. Remember: "Safe Boating Is No Accident."

Mio Forestry Expo July 23-25

The 11th annual Great Lakes Forestry Exposition opens in Mio for a three-day run beginning July 23. The event which is held in County Park has grown each year since it was started in 1959. It attracted more than 30,000 people last year who came to see modern and old-time logging equipment in operation.

Among the old-time rigs is a steam sawmill. The new style of logging will show how it is done today with powerful tractors, self-loaders, debarking machines, and wood chippers. The contests of the past will be re-enacted with log chopping and log birling. The "new-fangled" chain saws will buzz in a sawing contest held each day and double-bitted axes will fell "trees" with all the skill that can be mustered.

On July 25, a night-time water pageant on the famed AuSable River will climax the Saturday events.

The exposition is held each year to promote the use, enjoyment and appreciation of our natural resources in production of timber and timber products, recreation and better methods, equipment and ideas for achieving this.

City Income Tax Vote August 4

Registered voters of the City of Grayling will determine if the city is to impose an income tax at the General Primary Election to be held on Tuesday, August 4th.

This will be the second attempt this year, that the proposition will be presented to the electorate. On February 16, the proposal was defeated by 34 votes, 212 against to 178 for taxation.

Along with the income tax proposal, a second proposition will be presented to the voters, to determine if the city shall borrow $210,000 and issue its general obligation bonds for the purpose of improvements to the sewage disposal system.

The city income tax being asked is, one percent on residents of the city and one-half percent upon non-residents working in Grayling. A provision has been written into this new proposal that would legally earmark the expected $40,000 revenue per year, for city road and street work specially.

In the February balloting, the city council had gone on record to spread revenue expected, over a sewage treatment project, State St. bridge and street improvements.

The statement in part, of the income tax proposition, "that all net revenue derived therefrom be set aside for street improvements," legally earmarked the funds.

To terminate a city income tax, a petition may be circulated by the citizens, calling for a referendum vote to cancel, or by a resolution by the council, William Valusek, city manager, stated.

The $210,000 first phase bond issue to be voted on is for an estimated total $466,000 comprehensive sewage system for the city.

These bonds will finance a 15-acre aerated type lagoon system on Landfill Road and would make possible the removal of the present facility from the AuSable River bank, of which the city is under fire from the Water Resources Commission to do away with.

Valusek stated, the system is on a total 60-acre site, and its capacity could easily be doubled. The present plans call for a complex that could serve about 5000 persons, plus commercial and industrial interests.

On page eight of this issue, is the city election notice with both proposals, as they will appear on the ballot.

Grayling, Michigan — Thursday, July 23, 1970

On The Edge of Servitude

Saturday, May 9, was an unusual day. That was the day in 1970 when the average American taxpayer finally quit working for the government and began working for himself. From January 1 until May 9 — over four months — every dollar he earned would be required to pay taxes on his earnings for the year. Stated in another way, the average American taxpayer worked two hours and 49 minutes out of an eight-hour day just to pay his tax bills.

If this is not chilling enough, consider then the following figures: half of the federal individual income tax in the United States is paid by persons earning between $5,000 and $15,000 a year. It took the U.S. government 186 years to reach its first $100 billion budget — and only nine years to reach $200 billion. The interest on the federal debt today is $20 billion — more than the entire cost of operating the federal government only 29 years ago in 1941. State and local governmental revenues are going up at the rate of approximately 12 percent a year and will double in less than seven years. The $201 billion federal budget for 1971 will cost every individual in the United States, from the newborn baby to the oldest centenarian, almost $1,000 — to be exact $980. In spite of all this, the old fallacy still persists that a handout from Uncle Sam is free.

Perversion of Dissent

The General Counsel of a major oil company — a man of the law — Mr. Richard J. Farrell, in an address at Washburn University, freely admitted that the administration of the law has its faults. But, he went on to observe, "... the right of dissent is being employed today on such a scale and in a manner as to threaten to bring down the whole social structure. A great deal of the current furor in this country appears basically anarchistic in its inspiration, and among the many other luxuries we cannot afford at this stage in our development is a widespread state of anarchism. I use the term as it is most commonly understood to mean a terroristic resistance to government and social order. Given the complexity of modern, urban society, the last thing we can tolerate are people willing to destroy what is in order to see what might follow — if indeed they have such long-range curiosity."

Clippert stood up with her when she received her citizenship papers.

"Survival Program Successful"

SEA ROVER I — Cmdr. Richard S. Brownes is shown with the small craft used by the underwater experts during their survival program on the AuSable River. Things learned on the river will be used on future expeditions.

By Richard S. Brownes

Grayling — Members of the Underwater Exploration Company from Detroit have completed their survival program on the AuSable as scheduled.

"What we have learned on the river these past few days will be a tremendous help to us on future expeditions," Cmdr. Richard S. Brownes, UEC said.

However, unlike their previous attempt which was cancelled over the Memorial Day weekend, this mission was a success in all phases of the operation procedure.

During the survival test which lasted three days, the members involved in this expedition lived on fish and various eatables that they could find while enroute down the river using a small raft.

"Man need not have to worry about trying to survive on what Mother Nature has to offer — for the abundance of 'life's sustenance' is everywhere to be found," Richard Brownes observed.

With the completion of this project on the AuSable, the underwater explorers will leave in two weeks for Project Griffon — an expedition to salvage the remains of the famous French explorer Robert Cavellier de LaSalle's ship the Griffon — which had sunk in the North Channel of Lake Huron in 1679 while sailing back to Niagara from Green Bay to pay-off LaSalle's creditors for debt owing in building of the forty-ton shallop. The craft was loaded with furs and gold when it disappeared during a storm nearly three-hundred years ago.

The underwater searchers will spend three weeks on Birch Island — a lonely crescent of land in the North Channel where the infamous wreck of the Griffon lies rotting on the reefs — lost to the winds and the dark domain of the underwater world.

And on this remote island, they will set-up a Base Camp Station where "Controlled - Operations" will handle their underwater activity during the duration of the project.

"We had to come here first they showed their training by perfect order and attention to their duties. They will spend a week at Lake Guthrie, five and a half miles west of Waters. The troop included the following boys: Eric Rosenstand, Duard Willet, Gerald Willet, Gedney Fenton, John Custer, Russell Peterson, Gordon Green, Kenneth Clise, Willard Johnson, Bruce McConnell and Mark Lewis. West Brown of Saginaw accompanied the troops and will assist Scoutmaster Richards.

Albert M. Atwood of Indian River has purchased the John H. Cook home on the South side. The latter has resigned as manager of the local greenhouse and will join the family in Detroit August 1.

Mrs. Henry Griffin and son, Billy, of Detroit, are here to spend the remainder of the summer visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grey, who recently moved here from Lewiston.

Communications

Louis K. Cramton

I will work to keep you informed what is happening in Lansing — and what it may mean to you.

I will welcome your letters, answer them as promptly as possible. I care what you think about our state problems.

I will give you straight answers on where I stand on issues.

I will be available. I will make frequent visits to Grayling and Roscommon so that you can talk to me about legislation — or enlist my help on problems you may have with state agencies.

To represent you, your man in Lansing must make an effort to remain close to each part of the District — to spend as much time as the job permits in each part of the District. You have my pledge to do just that. It will be a pleasure.

Sincerely,

Lou Cramton

Sympathy for the doctor

A medical doctor confessed to me that he doesn't like to be called Doc. I know exactly what he means.

Looking around the crowded bar where the doctor and I sat, I could see 3 other "Docs". None of them is a doctor. One guy is called Doc because his late father was a veterinarian. Another man is a Doc because he used to jerk sodas in a drugstore. The 3rd man is a Doc because he once dated a nurse.

"I worked and studied a lot of years to become a doctor," my medical friend explained. "I like to be called Doctor. Or by my first name or my last name; or both. But not Doc. I think I've earned more respect than men who might be called Doc because they sell band-aids, or because they're in a cartoon with a rabbit who wants to know what's up."

Yeah. When a man earns respect, he likes to get it.

Listening to Doc's (whoops) Doctor's problem, I almost sobbed aloud. It's not only that I'm naturally sympathetic and I had a lump I wanted him to look at between drinks. But I was reminded of the day I was promoted to Corporal. You probably won't believe what happened but keep reading anyway. There's nothing but reruns on TV while I've never told this story before . . .

IT WAS LATE 1945 at Camp Polk, Louisiana. I had already been in the army about 2 years. My presence in Germany helped us win the war there. The mere threat of my presence in Japan led to our victory there (I was about to set sail for the South Pacific when Japan heard about it and surrendered).

Despite this tremendous contribution, I was still a Private

First Class. This rankled. My mother kept writing that all her friends' sons were admirals and generals. She threatened to pull the shade in front of the blue-star flag in her window. I was ashamed. I was also dreadfully sick of doing KP and scrubbing floors. Corporals and sergeants didn't have to do that dirty work. Only privates.

Suddenly, my luck changed. I was made an assistant to the Catholic chaplain who was a full colonel. He was a vain man and he didn't want any lousy private working for him. He immediately promoted me to corporal. Wow.

I immediately purchased 62 sets of corporal's stripes and mailed out 32 change-of-address cards, mostly to my mother. I was stenciling stripes on my arm that evening when the sergeant said it was time for a GI Party. That means scrub the lousy barracks. I just sat there and laughed.

"It's great that we non-commissioned officers don't have to do such awful work, isn't it, Sarge," I said to my new comrade, slipping my arm around his shoulders. "Let's you and me slip over to the NCO club for a beer or 12. Let these slob privates scrub away."

The sergeant handed me a broom and showed me a written notice just received from the company commander. It said that, due to an unusual number of promotions, there were no longer enough privates to do all the KP and clean all the barracks. From this date forward, it said, corporals would also do KP etc. Just as if they were privates.

And when I fell on the floor, screaming and kicking and scratching at my new stripes, a dumb private looked at me and said: "What's up, Corp?"

Polyholder Questions Answered by The Institute of Life Insurance, 277 Park Ave., N. Y., N. Y., 10017

Q. My husband and I have five young children. He's an electrical engineer and is doing quite well. From the time we were married he's always had life insurance. Recently I've been thinking how much it would cost to take care of the children if something should happen to me and that maybe I need life insurance, too. Is it common for wives to be insured?

A. Yes, it's becoming quite common for wives to have life insurance. In fact, according to a recent Institute of Life Insurance survey, 71 per cent of all wives had some insurance. With such items as taxes, wages, marital deductions, and bringing up children it's important to consider what the loss of a wife would mean financially to a family.

The question is: When should a wife take out life insurance? Here are some yardsticks to measure by. First, your husband should have at least enough life insurance on himself to cover final expenses; enough to provide adequately for you and the children until they are college age, including some tuition money to get them started. After these are taken care of, then insurance for you should be considered.

You'll want to talk this over with your husband and your insurance man to decide on the best plan for your family.

Q. I'm contemplating taking out a bank loan and understand that credit life insurance goes along with it. What is it exactly and how do they figure the cost?

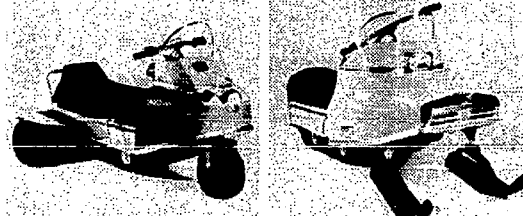

A. Credit life insurance is used to repay a debt in case the borrower should die. It's term insurance, generally decreasing as the loan is repaid. It protects the borrower's family against the burden of a debt that might be left if he should die. Credit life insurance is issued through life insurance companies to lenders such as banks, finance companies, credit unions and retailers. During 1968, credit life insurance in the amount of $76 billion worth of protection was in force in the United States.

Premiums are figured at a flat rate — about 6 cents a month for each $100 of a borrower's outstanding debt.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q What should you do if you get a bill for taxes you've already paid?

A) If you have paid the tax recently you can disregard the notice. It was probably issued before the payment had been credited to your account.

However, if the payment was made more than four weeks ago return the notice, indicating when the payment was made and where it was sent.

If you have a cancelled check for the payment also indicate any numbers stamped on the check by IRS. This will help trace the payment.

Q Is it true that stock market losses are only partially deductible under the new tax law?

A) The new law does make changes in the handling of long-term capital losses. These losses can still be used to offset capital gains, but when long-term capital losses are greater than capital gains, each $1 of the loss can be used to offset only 50¢ of ordinary income.

Short-term capital losses continue to offset ordinary income dollar for dollar.

Q I work two jobs and both employers are taking out Social Security. Can I do anything about it?

A) The law requires each employer to withhold Social Security tax on the first $7,800 of an employee's wages. If more than the maximum of $374.40 is withheld for Social Security tax in 1970 because you had more than one employer, you can claim a credit for the excess on your 1970 income tax return.

Q I do a lot of traveling on my new job. What kind of records should I keep on my food and lodging costs?

A) A cancelled check together with a bill stamped paid can be used to establish the amount of your lodging and the date. A diary or similar record of your meal costs is acceptable if entries are made when the costs are incurred.

Rules on travel expenses are detailed in Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. For a free copy write your District Director.

Q Can a self-employed individual set up his own retirement plan?

A) Yes, if you are in business for yourself you may deduct your contributions to a self-employed retirement plan, provided that the contributions are based on earned income. Your business can be either full or part-time.

For details, send a post card to your District Director and ask for a copy of Publication 566, Questions and Answers on Retirement Plans for the Self-Employed. It's free.

Q There have been some changes in my tax situation since I filled out my estimated return in April. Can I change it now?

A) Yes, recompute your estimated tax on the worksheet included in your 1040ES package before you make your third installment payment in September. The amended tax figure and the new payment amount should be shown on the voucher you send in with your payment.

Air Force Needs Nurses

The United States Air Force has announced a new program for Registered Nurses. Now, for the first time in years, Registered Nurses, married or single, may qualify for a direct commission as an officer in the United States Air Force.

In announcing the new nurse program, Sgt. Dan Schingel, local Air Force recruiter said that, depending on education and experience, both men and women who have no dependents under 18 years of age may receive a commission as an Air Force Nurse.

An Air Force Nurse fills a genuine need by caring for the health of American's first defense team. In addition they will have a chance to advance their professional standing and work with the most modern equipment in Air Force hospitals. The pay is good, promotions are regular and they enjoy the opportunities of seeing new places, making new friends and taking part in a full social life during their off-duty hours.

After finding out what an Air Force Nurse does, the next logical questions usually are: What are my chances of working in the specialty in which I trained? How do I apply? Where will I be assigned?

For the answers to these questions and all others you may have, write today to USAF Recruit. Office, 313 Federal Bldg., Bay City, Mich. 48706.

Klein-Engel Exchange Vows

Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church was the setting on June 27 for the marriage of Miss Carolyn Elizabeth Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Klein and John Arthur Engel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnie D. Engel. The three o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. C. Puffer of Spencer and Rev. Paul Frederick of Grayling before one hundred and seventy-five guests.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her brother, James M. Klein of Essexville, was attired in a gown of white organza with embroidered peau d'ange lace in diagonal bands enriching the skirt both front and back. The lace bodice, high stand-up collar, and puffed sleeves with delicate organza bows were accented with dainty pearl clusters. A chapel length detachable tunnel train flowed in gentle folds from the back of the gown. A headpiece of white embroidered lace flowers and satin leaves highlighted with pearls secured her fingertip illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Barbara Gene Ugo of Warren, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Irene Annis Fowler of Dayton, Ohio and Mrs. Mary Bollman Thompson of Battle Creek were bridesmaids. They wore identical A-line, empire dresses of lime green chiffon over taffeta trimmed with Venice lace in which olive green satin ribbon was inserted. They carried white baskets filled with daisies, ivy and streamers of olive green ribbon. Kelly Sue Klein of Essexville, niece of the bride, and Joanne Siniff of Bay City, niece of the groom, were flower girls. They wore similarly styled short dresses with lace-edged puffed sleeves and carried baskets of daisies and ivy.

Robert Fenton of Grayling served as best man with Joseph Siniff of Bay City and Terry Pyle of Zeeland as groomsmen. John Ugo of Warren ushered. Mark Ugo, also of Warren, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Joel Klein of Murray, Ky., nephew of the bride lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Miss Jacqueline Maag, professor of music from Albion College and Carolyn's vocal instructor while attending Albion, sang two selections, "Ich liebe dich" by Beethoven, performed in German, and "Be Thou with Them" by Bach. Anemari Stancil presided at the organ. "One Hand, One Heart" sung and accompanied by the bride and taped before the ceremony was played from the balcony while Carolyn and John lighted their white wedding candle, symbolic of the unity of their marriage.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Klein chose a delicate pink chiffon over taffeta A-line fashioned dress with stand-up collar accented with pearls and crystals. She wore matching pink accessories. Mrs. Engel wore a two-piece coat-style ensemble of yellow lace over a yellow sheath highlighted by a gently rolled collar. Her accessories were white. Both mothers wore large white orchids.

A reception was held in the church dining room immediately following the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Souders serving as host and hostess. The bride and groom left for a honeymoon in northern Canada. The new Mrs. Engel wore a dress of white lace and pleated crepe trimmed with pink satin ribbon. Her accessories were of matching pink.

Carolyn is a 1965 graduate of Grayling High School, a 1969 graduate of Albion College, and has attended Central Michigan University for graduate study. She taught elementary and junior high school music in the Reed City Public School District during the past year and will return to this position in September.

John is a 1964 graduate of Grayling High School and entered the United States Navy following graduation. He has completed his second year at Ferris State College and will begin his junior year in the fall. He is studying electrical power technology. The young couple will reside in Reed City.

Out of town guests were from Moorestown, Spencer, Cadillac, LeRoy, Reed City, Paris, Big Rapids, Zeeland, Bay City, Flint, East Lansing, Ann Arbor, Albion, Battle Creek, Dearborn, Warren, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Menominee Falls, Wisc.; Bellwood, Ky.; Dayton, Ohio; Marion, Ohio; Rochester, N.Y.; and Murray, Ky.

On Friday, June 26, Mr. and Mrs. Barnie Engel hosted a dinner at the Penguin Inn following the rehearsal at the church. It was attended by forty guests.

Happy day!

Money in the mailbox!

But does it have to be money? How about a letter from someone who loves you? Or four tickets to the next World Series? Or an invitation from good friends to dinner?

And surely, good things don't have to come by mail. They could come in kind words from a friend. Or in your boss saying, "I'm giving you a raise." Or as an "A" grade on a carefully-researched term paper.

But what is the "best" happiness? Where can we find it?

The best happiness is a letter from God, saying that His Son is your invitation to His Kingdom.

Where can you find this letter? In the Bible and in church this Sunday and every Sunday.

Phone Directory Deadline July 29

General Telephone customers in Grayling who want to make corrections or additions to the directory must call the company's business office before Wednesday, July 29. A. R. Murphy, district manager for the company said today.

Emphasis on firm cutoff dates for entries allows the General Telephone Directory Company, in Des Plaines, Ill., to assemble, print, bind and return the new Grayling directory in a relatively short period of time, Murphy said.

"Our Directory Company, which prints millions of telephone books each year, operates on a deadline basis much like a newspaper," he said. "For this reason changes requested after Wednesday, July 29, cannot be honored. That's the date the directory is 'locked-up' and sent immediately to the Directory Company for printing."

Frederic Cub Scouts

Last Saturday the Cub Scouts of Pack 78 went on their monthly outing. They were guests of the Call of The Wild, which was enjoyed by all. We wish to thank them for their hospitality. We also went to the Shrine at Indian River, which was really worth the trip in itself. The scouts enjoyed the scenery around Petoskey and Alanson. They stopped at a road side park by a river for a cookout. All in all the cubs had a busy and enjoyable time.

Den 4 is continuing their den meetings during the summer months. The meetings are on Tuesday afternoon from 4 till 6 at the home of the Gabriels. Guests from other dens are welcome.

My Friends and Neighbors:

We are facing the most serious crisis in the history of our nation; not a crisis of aggression from some tangible enemy, but rather a deterioration of our moral and economic fibre from within. We are rapidly reaching the point of no-return and it is becoming increasingly evident that we must act innovatively and decisively in the very near future if we are to remain a viable nation.

Many of our problems are self evident and have been widely publicized in our news media. We are aware of the tremendous potential for self destruction in the areas of air and water pollution, the depletion of our natural resources, the population explosion and many others. And yet the very fact that we are aware of these problems and are working for solutions gives me hope. I think they will be solved.

We do have some problems that are not as evident; some that can be the building blocks of our salvation or the remnants of our indifference. Only by correcting these will we have the opportunity of continuing to work for solutions of our evident problems.

1. We must recognize the fallacy in the theoretical policy of operating a governmental body on a continuing deficit fiscal basis and at an oppressive tax rate. Anyone who has ever carried water from a well knows you can only take out an amount equal to what has been put in. We know that as individuals we can only spend an amount equal to what we can earn or repay. We will find our government to be as vulnerable to these natural laws as we are.

The legitimate function of our government is to provide those essential services to its citizens that can not be performed by the individual. We have no alternative but to restrict those functions that are not crucial to our well being; to restore as many functions as possible to private enterprise, and to return control to local levels in as many cases as possible.

2. We should re-examine the policies that have perpetuated the concept of our nation as a welfare state. I can't believe that we are perpetuating a dynamic citizenry through direct and continued relief or through subsidies to select groups and industries. We do our people a dis-service by making them wards of government.

Most people are willing and anxious to help those few who really need direct assistance, but the majority are able to work and would be happier performing meaningful, productive services.

3. One of the primary causes of inflation is the imbalance between the wages man receives in relation to the amount of goods and services he produces. We have helped create this imbalance through direct assistance, through subsidies, through duplication of services, through the creation of jobs that have no productive value, in general through the concept of getting something for nothing. Labor and industry must share this responsibility along with government.

The idea of something for nothing is the wishful thinking of human nature. Unfortunately, we all know it isn't true. We have no choice but to return to the principles of individual responsibility through elimination of legislation that condones irresponsibilities. It may be necessary to establish relative wage scales since we are no longer willing to allow the market place to operate in this function.

4. Many of our young people have been critical of us for being too concerned with material things. Perhaps we have allowed materialism to become a national goal, and it certainly can stand re-evaluation. We have all come to realize that the quality of life is as important as the quantity and most of us are anxious to help in a positive way.

LeRoy W. Wahl

STATE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

In this area we must encourage our educational systems, our churches, and the leaders of our government to help establish new patterns.

5. If we can take some positive steps toward correcting these problems, we will have eliminated some of the causes of unrest among our young. All of us must work to establish the examples that have made our nation a nation of freedom and truth. We are not a nation of perfection, but only truth as people saw it a hundred years ago and as we see it today.

After we do this, let us exercise our prerogative as parents and adults and establish guidelines and limits for our young people. The principles for those guidelines have been passed on for almost two thousand years. They must have merit to have survived that long.

If you find these points compatible with your beliefs, then I solicit your support. Call a neighbor or friend and ask them to read this article.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Winning And Trying

Too often the difference between losing and winning can be measured as a small amount of effort. This is to be regretted; winning is not the important thing. What really matters, whatever the cause, whatever the struggle, is the amount of care and attention devoted to the problem.

We cannot always be successful, yet we can salvage some satisfaction from what we learned and what we accomplished in the effort to win. We never lose completely; not so long as we continue to try.

Work for the best in all things. When doubts come your way, when your steps would falter, send out a little prayer for faith. So long as you have faith, so much as you believe that the right way is that which is pleasing to God, to this extent will you gain from every little experience of your life.

PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on Tuesday, July 28, 1970 at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Room of the Grayling City Hall. This hearing is being called to hear the proposed zoning changes in the Grayling Township Zoning Ordinance as listed below.

Rezone from R-A to R-3 property described as the NE 1/4 of SE 1/4 of Sec. 22, T26N, R2W.

To The Editor:

I am writing in regard to an existing condition on our county roads, and as to how such complaints on the conditions are handled.

Since early this spring I have progressively talked on the phone to the head of the Road Commission and the Engineer. The reply in both cases was that the condition would be looked into.

Two weeks ago on Monday, June 30, 1970, I called the county garage at 8:00 a.m. I was referred to the foreman in charge of such county roads.

I stated my complaint to aforementioned foreman. The foreman said, quote — "Maybe we should quit blading the roads." Finally the foreman said he would look into the matter.

On Tuesday, July 14, 1970, at 5:30 p.m., upon arriving home I found a pond extending along Spruce St. approximately 200 feet. The pond was just about 40 feet wide in some spots. I took this picture July 14, 1970 at 5:30 p.m.

This condition is present every time it rains.

Pollution, is it here?

Yes, unfortunately it has come to Grayling and is trying to take over as it is taking over all over the world, destroying everything.

Before I continue, I would like to explain the reason for this story. One of the requirements for my Conservation of Natural Resources Merit Badge is to write a story on a conservation problem in my community and I chose pollution because it is the most important to me.

Who causes pollution? None other than that superior being The Human. He's destroying his rivers, lakes, roads and land. He's emptying chemicals and waste into his water supply destroying it, dumping his trash on the roadways polluting them. Why is he doing this? He is being careless with fire, destroying his forests, using pesticides unwisely, harming the wildlife. Again I ask you, why is he doing this? If man doesn't start to wise up and be more careful of the way he uses his modern devices he soon won't have anywhere to go or any beauty to see, because he will have destroyed everything.

I hope this article I have written will start you thinking as it has me. If we all join and work together we can start to solve this worldwide problem.

Thank you for your time and patience.

Sincerely yours,
Dean Molnar

Area Youths Take
Interest In Election

"Eighteen-year olds don't have to wait till they get the vote to be effective in politics," Louis K. Cramton, candidate for the Republican nomination for State Representative told a gathering of under-voting age people Sunday in Midland.

"Active participation in the leg work of campaigning — getting literature distributed, signs posted and bumper stickers on cars by attractive, enthusiastic young people can do wonders in enlivening a political campaign," Cramton told the young audience.

The young people had met to sound Cramton out on major campaign issues and to weigh the possibility of becoming involved in his campaign or that of other candidates.

John Benser and Kathy VanSickle, Houghton Lake High School students, loaded up with "Cramton for State Representative" posters and literature for their return to Houghton Lake.

"So far as I am concerned, John and Kathy are key campaign personnel now. They may not be able to vote for me, but their activity on my behalf is sure to influence a lot of votes," Cramton said.

A non-voter giving full time to the Cramton campaign for the nomination August 4th, is Stephen Treichler who graduated this June from York High School near Williamsburg, Va.

Treichler, a Midland resident until his folks were transferred to Virginia by the Dow Chemical Company, is not new to politics.

Treichler was one of several high school aged "Kids for Cramton" in 1968 who not only put up campaign signs but helped remove them after the political race was over.

"It is important to get the candidate's name better known to the voters," Treichler observed, "But it is just as important to remove them when they are no longer needed."

Cramton endorses Treichler's views on getting the signs up — and down. He has given young Steve full responsibility for coordinating the efforts of more than a dozen volunteers putting up Cramton campaign posters. Several are adults but most are between 18 and 20 years old.

Heading up the distribution of Cramton bumper stickers in the Midland area is Miss Marcia Rennie — still a year or two away from voting age. Almost all of the volunteers working with Marcia are high school or college age.

"Volunteers of any age are important to a successful campaign. The young people helping me are having an effective voice in the democratic process, even though it may be some time before they are allowed to vote," Cramton said.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Day returned home last week after spending a month in Alaska and points west. They took a boat trip from Prince Rupert to Vancouver, B. C. and report it was beautiful. They also spent some time in Seattle, Wash. visiting friends.

Miss Lela Ferguson of Hillman is visiting Mrs. Dolly Crawl and the Kenneth Jackson family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trudgen and family attended the family reunion of her family, the Savoie family last Sunday at Hartwick Pines. There were about 65 present attending from Denver, Col.; Iron Mt., St. John, Millwaukee, Wisc.; Midland, Detroit and other points in Michigan. A good time was had by all.

Mrs. Betty Wysocki and three children and Mrs. Sylvia Keppen of Dearborn have rented a cottage and are spending some time at Lake Margrethe near the Speight's cottage.

LETTER OF INTEREST

July 15, 1970

Mr. Charles McNally
Grayling Kiwanis Club
East Branch Road
Grayling, Michigan 49738
Dear Mr. McNally:

I would like to take this opportunity, on behalf of the boys, the staff, and myself, to thank the local Kiwanis Club and, specifically, you and Charley Fick for the investment you have made in making our boys feel a part of the community. Giving the boys an opportunity to work on community projects not only provides them with the enjoyment of participation, but also gives them the opportunity for community contact and involvement.

An ability to learn to become involved in life, in the community, and in society will become an essential part of a successful adjustment upon release. This ability to enjoy and feel a sense of accomplishment while involved in these projects is a beginning, and, therefore, very important to the individual boys and to the camp program in general.

Again, I would like to thank those who were kind enough to help our boys and, in addition, I would like to thank the Kiwanis Club and the Petunia Fund for the contribution that was made to the Boys Benefit Fund. Though unexpected, it was certainly appreciated.

Also, I would like to add that the boys have greatly enjoyed the opportunity to attend a Kiwanis Club meeting and have enjoyed their meals greatly. Again, the value of this type of contact with people in the community cannot be over-emphasized.

Sincerely,
Camp Lavictoire

Letters To The Editor

As president of the Grayling Little League, I must stress the prime objective of the Grayling Little League shall be to implant firmly in the boys of the area the ideals of good sportsmanship, honesty, loyalty, courage and respect for authority, so that they be well adjusted, stronger and happier boys and will grow to be decent, healthy and trustworthy men.

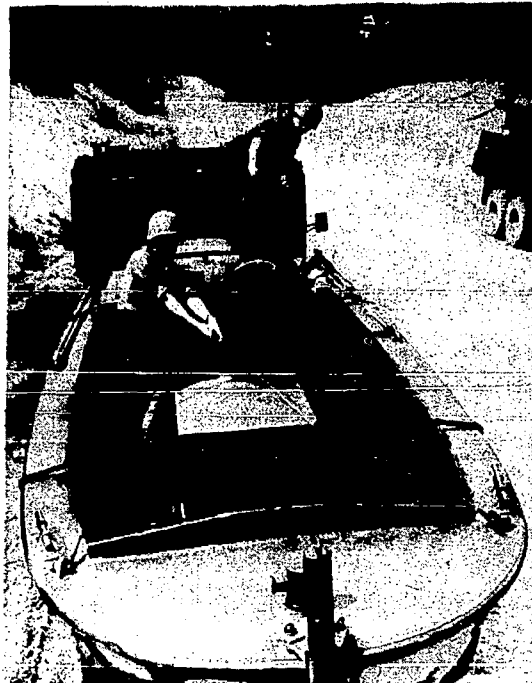

To achieve this objective the league has provided a supervised program of competitive baseball games under the rules and policies of Little League Baseball Incorporated. Directors, officers, members and parents shall bear in mind that stressing exception athletic skills or winning of games is secondary and that type of leadership, extended to boys is of prime importance. To achieve this objective we always need the help of all parents.

The managers and myself met at a recent all-star selection of 11 and 12 year old boys of our local league, to represent Grayling in the Tourney at Alpena this week. 19 boys were chosen by the managers. Of these 19 boys, we had to select 14 as a team. Last week a father stated that a veto power, prejudice, petty and personal reasons were used in the selection of a boy by a manager. I must stress that there was not any veto power, prejudice, petty or personal reasons used in selecting the team.

Each boys name was listed on a blackboard, not necessarily in the position of ability. Each boy's ability was discussed extensively and then and only then after much thought was the boy selected by a unanimous voice of the managers. These managers are very close to these boys and their judgement was very fair. The five alternate players are as much a part of the team as the 14 boys selected to play on the field. Just by being in Alpena and rooting could inspire the boys to victory.

Any parent should be positive in any criticism of the baseball program and be willing to volunteer their service to improve it. Present their opinions and criticism to the officers of the league in a constructive manner. Demonstrate that they recognize the effort extended by the volunteer personnel by refraining from unsportsmanlike conduct and grandstand managing. Recognize that Little Leagues are children, not professional players, and need encouragement, not criticism.

Sincerely,
Harry Miller

BUILDING BRIDGES is the mission of the 1437th Engineer Company. To do their job they need boats. Here Pvt. Kenneth Lasecki and Pvt. Jerry Werth, both of Alpena, secure cables on a boat prior to moving to the field.

Guard Host City Youths

CAMP GRAYLING — For the third year in a row, the Michigan Army National Guard hosted disadvantaged youths from the inner city areas of the state for a one-week camping experience at Camp Grayling.

This year, two camps are planned, with the first group of 100 boys arriving last week. Members of the guard supervise the boys and act as counselors. During the camp the boys, many of whom have never been out of the city, will be treated to local tours of the Grayling Fish Hatchery, Hartwick Pines State Park and the Fred Bear Museum.

They will also take a bus tour to Mackinaw City to visit Fort Mackinac, see the Big Mac Bridge and Castle Rock.

Many group activities will keep the boys occupied at camp. There will be softball, volleyball, archery, swimming, horseshoes and fishing to name a few.

The program was originated to give boys who may have never seen the outdoors a chance to get the feel of northern Michigan and to have fun with other boys. The camp has been financed with donations from individual guardsmen.

From Mrs. Jane Pippin, Kansas City, Kansas: I remember when you could go fishing in a clear stream of water, sit lazily on a creek bank and just wait for the fish to bite. Every care in the world was far away. How different it is today.

Do you remember homemade lye soap? We used to catch rain water in a barrel (wooden) as soft water seemed to make the soap better. How about our homemade dresses, and the hassle to get all the sewing done before school started. Those cold winter nights were something else, with our feather bed and homemade quilts, with an old brick wrapped in a towel to keep the feet warm.

In those days, there were no modern refrigerators, just an ice box and a drip pan that was emptied every morning. We had an ice card in the window so the ice man would know how many pounds to leave.

Remember the kerosene lamps, with chimneys to be cleaned once a week, and the wick trimmed so it would burn evenly.

Almanack

by Richard L. Milliman

The Saga Of Hamtramck

Did you hear the story about the city that had to go out of business? It seems they had more people on the city payroll than they had left to pay the taxes.

No, it's not the latest Polish joke — at least of the standard Polish joke variety.

Instead, it's the saga of Hamtramck. A city within a city. Hamtramck and its 34,000 residents are completely surrounded by Detroit — geographically, ethnically, socially, economically, and in most other ways. And Hamtramck is famous as a small enclave of Poland in this country.

Well, it seems the city of Hamtramck went broke. The city ran out of money, partly — according to newspaper reports — because the payroll was too big, and city officials didn't want to lay off anybody.

Regardless of how the situation finally is resolved, there appear at least three lessons for other governmental and citizens in general to be noted from Hamtramck's plight:

1. The public treasury is not a bottomless pit.

What goes out of the public treasury in the form of expenses must come into the treasury, primarily in the form of taxes. Taxes from somebody.

A government may be able to get by with questionable financial and budgeting practices for a while, perhaps for many years. But sooner or later, if a government spends more than it it collects, it is going to be in trouble.

2. Local units of government have the right to be treated equally by state government; but it can get to be expensive for the state.

For example, one of Gov. Milliken's legislative proposals for this year was a $5 million no-strings-attached outright state grant to the city of Detroit to help Detroit solve some of its problems. For Detroit, $5 million is something of a drop in the bucket, but Milliken's proposal was sort of a "my-heart's-in-the-right-place" type of idea. And the legislature pretty much went along with the plan.

But, if Detroit is entitled to $5 million, what about Hamtramck? The hometown senator — Sen. Stanley Rozycki — decided that what was sauce for Detroit was sauce for Hamtramck. He insisted on a mini-grant — only a quarter of a million dollars — to help out Hamtramck.

Under the circumstances, Rozycki's move was perfectly proper; however there remains serious question about the propriety of a state grant to any city in the first place, regardless of the location of the donor's heart.

Hamtramck's bid for a state grant illustrates the trap in which the state will become ensnared because of this approach; next year, what other cities will need help? And if Detroit and Hamtramck deserve state grants, why not all other incorporated cities in the state? Why not, indeed. There is no logical reason why not.

3. The third lesson in Hamtramck's plight is that citizens cannot just elect a bunch of people to run their affairs, and let it go at that. Good, local government requires that the people keep on their toes, and thereby keep their elected officials on their toes.

Good government demands that the people maintain their interest, their involvement, even vigilance. If not, then other Hamtramcks can develop.
